

Sir WALTER RALEIGH's Letter to his WIFE.

YOU shall now receive (my dear Wife) my last Words in these my last Lines. My Love I send you, that you may keep it when I am dead; and my Counsel, that you may remember it when I am no more. I would not by my Will present you with Sorrows (Dear Beſſie) let them go into the Grave with me, and be buried in the Duſt. And ſeeing that it is not God's Will that I ſhould ſee you any more in this Life, bear it patiently, and with a Heart like thy ſelf. Firſt, I ſend you all the Thanks which my Heart can conceive, or my Words can rehearſe, for your many Travails, and Care taken for me; which though they have not taken Effect as you wiſhed, yet my Debt to you is not the leſs; but pay it I never ſhall in this World. Secondly, I beſeech you, for the Love you bare me living, do not hide your ſelf many Days, but by your Travels ſeek to help your miſerable Fortunes, and the Right of your poor Child. Thy Mourning cannot avail me, I am but Duſt. Thirdly, you ſhall underſtand that my Land was conveyed bona fide to my Child: The Writings were drawn at Midſummer was twelve Months, my beſt Couſin Brett can teſtify ſo much, and Dolberry too can remember ſomewhat therein. And I truſt my Blood will quench their Malice that have cruelly murdered me, and that they will not ſeek alſo to kill thee and thine with extreme Poverty. To what Friend to direct thee I know not, for all mine have left me in the true time of Trial. And I perceive that my Death was determin'd from the firſt Day. Moſt ſorry I am, God knows, that being thus ſurprized with Death I can leave you in no better Eſtate. God is my Witneſs, I meant you all my Office of Wines, or all that I could have purchaſed by ſelling it, half my Stuff, and all my Jewels, but ſome one for the Boy; but God hath prevented all my Reſolutions, that great God that ruleth all in all: but if you can live free from Want, care for no more, the reſt is but Vanity. Love God, and begin betimes to reſtore your ſelf upon him, and therein ſhall you find true and laſting Riches, and endleſs Comfort: For the reſt, when you have travelled and wearied your Thoughts over all ſorts of worldly Cogitations, you ſhall but ſit down by Sorrow in the end. Teach your Son alſo to love and fear God whiſt he is yet young, that the Fear of God may grow with him; and then God will be a Husband to you, and a Father to him; a Husband and a Father which cannot be taken from you. Bailly oweth me 200l. and Adrian 600l. in Jerſey. I alſo have much owing me beſides. The Arrearages of the Wines will pay your Debts. And howſoever you do, for my Soul's ſake, pay all poor Men. When I am gone, no doubt you ſhall be ſought to, for the World thinks that I was very rich. But take heed of the Preſences of Men, and their Affections, for they laſt not but in honeſt and worthy Men; and no greater Miſery can befall you in this Life than to become a Prey, and afterwards to be deſpiſed. I ſpeak not this (God knows) to diſſuade you from Marriage, for it will be beſt for you both in reſpect of the World and of God. As for me, I am no more yours, nor you mine, Death hath cut us aſunder; and God hath divided me from the World, and you from me. Remember your poor Child for his Father's ſake, who choſe you, and loved you in his happieſt Times. Get thoſe Letters (if it be poſſible) which I writ to the Lords, wherein I ſued for Life: God is my Witneſs, it was for you and yours that I deſired Life; but it is true that I diſdain'd my ſelf for begging of it: For know it (my dear Wife) that your Son is the Son of a true Man, and who, in his own reſpect, deſpiſeth Death, and all his miſhapen and ugly Forms. I cannot write much, God he knows how hardly I ſteal this Time while others ſleep, and it is alſo time that I ſhould ſeparate my Thoughts from the World. Beg my dead Body, which living was denied thee; and either lay it at Sherburne (and if the Land continue) or in Exeter-Church by my Father and Mother. I can ſay no more, Time and Death call me away; the everlaſting, powerful, infinite, and omnipotent God, that Almighty God, who is Goodneſs it ſelf, the true Life and true Light, keep thee and thine, have Mercy on me, and teach me to forgive my Perſecutors and Accuſers, and ſend us to meet in his glorious Kingdom. My dear Wife, farewell. Bleſs my poor Boy. Pray for me, and let my good God hold you both in his Arms. Written with the dying Hand of ſometime thy Husband, but now alas overthrow

WALTER RALEIGH.

UPON Thursday the 29th of Octob. 1618. Sir Walter Raleigh was conveyed by the Sheriffs of London to a Scaffold in the Old Palace-Yard at Weſtminſter, about nine of the Clock in the morning of the ſame day.

Whereupon, when he came, with a chearful Countenance he ſaluted the Lords, Knights and Gentlemen there preſent.

After which, a Proclamation was made for Silence, and he addreſſed himſelf to ſpeak in this manner.

I deſire to be borne withal, for this is the third Day of my Fever; and if I ſhall ſhew any Weakneſs, I beſeech you to attribute it to my Malady, for this is the Hour in which it is wont to come.

Then pausing a while, he ſat, and directed himſelf towards a Window, where the Lords of Arundel, Northampton, and Doncaſter, with ſome other Lords and Knights, ſate, and ſpoke as followeth:

I thank God, of his infinite Goodneſs, that he hath brought me to die in the Light, and not in Darkneſs; (but by reaſon that the Place where the Lords, &c. ſat, was ſome diſtance from the Scaffold, that he perceived they could not well hear him, he ſaid) I will ſtrain my Voice, for I would willingly have your Honours hear me.

But my Lord of Arundel ſaid, Nay, we will rather come down to the Scaffold, which he and ſome others did.

Where being come, he ſaluted them ſeverally, and then began again to ſpeak as followeth, viz.

As I ſaid, I thank God heartily, that he hath brought me into the Light to die, and that he hath not ſuffer'd me to die in the dark Priſon of the Tower, where I have ſuffer'd a great deal of Miſery and cruel Sickneſs; and I thank God that my Fever hath not taken me at this time, as I prayed to God it might not.

There are two main Points of Suspicion that his Maſteſty, as I hear, hath conceived againſt me.

To reſolve your Lordſhips wherein his Maſteſty cannot be ſatiſfy'd, which I deſire to clear, and to reſolve your Lordſhips of:

One is, That his Maſteſty hath been inform'd that I have often had Plots with France, and his Maſteſty had good Reaſon to induce him thereunto.

One Reaſon that his Maſteſty had to conjecture ſo was, that when I came back from Guiana, being come to Plymouth, I endeavour'd to go in a Bark to Rochel, which was, for that I would have made my Peace before I had come to England.

Another Reaſon was, That upon my Flight, I did intend to fly into France, for the ſaving of my ſelf, having had ſome Terror from above.

A third Reaſon, that his Maſteſty had Reaſon to ſuſpect, was the French Agent's coming to me; beſides, it was reported that I had a Commiſſion from the French King at my going forth: Theſe are the Reaſons that his Maſteſty had, as I am inform'd, to ſuſpect me.

But this I ſay, for a Man to call God to Witneſs to a Falſhood at the Hour of Death, is far more grievous and impious, and that a Man that ſo doth cannot have Salvation, for he hath no time of Repentance; then what ſhall I expect, that am going inſtantly to render up my Account? I do therefore call God to Witneſs, as I hope to be ſaved, and as I hope to ſee him in his Kingdom, which I hope I ſhall within this Quarter of an Hour, I never had any Commiſſion from the French King, nor never ſaw the French King's Hand-writing in all my Life; neither knew I that there was a French Agent, nor what he was, till I met him in my Gallery at my Lodging unlook'd for: If I ſpeak not true, O Lord! let me never enter into thy Kingdom.

The ſecond Suspicion was, That his Maſteſty had been inform'd, that I ſhould ſpeak diſhonourably and diſloyally of my Sovereign; but my Accuſer was a baſe Frenchman, and runagate Fellow, one that hath no Dwelling, a kind of a Chymical Fellow, one that I knew to be perfidious; for being by him drawn into the Action of ſearing myſelf at Wincheſter, in which I confeſs my Hand was toucht, he being ſworn to Secrecy over-night, revealed it the next Morning.

But this I ſpeak now, what have I to do with Kings? I have nothing to do with them, neither do I fear them; I have only now to do with my God, in whoſe Preſence I ſtand; therefore to tell a Lye, were it to gain the King's Favour, were vain: Therefore, as I hope to be ſav'd at the laſt Judgment-day, I never ſpoke diſhonourably, diſloyally, or diſhoneſtly of his Maſteſty in all my Life; and therefore I cannot but think it ſtrange that that Frenchman, being ſo baſe and mean a Fellow, ſhould be ſo far credited as he hath been.

I have dealt truly, as I hope to be ſav'd, and I hope I ſhall be believed; I confeſs I did attempt to eſcape, I cannot excuſe it, but it was only to ſave my Life.

And I do likewiſe confeſs, that I did feign myſelf to be ill-diſpoſed and ſick at Salisbury; but I hope it was no Sin, for the Prophet David did make himſelf a Fool, and ſuffered Spittle to fall down upon his Beard, to eſcape from the Hands of his Enemies, and it was not imputed unto him: So, what I did, I intended no Ill, but to gain and prolong time till his Maſteſty came, hoping for ſome Commiſeration from him.

But I forgive this Frenchman and Sir Lewis Steukley, with all my heart, for I have receiv'd the Sacrament this Morning of Mr. Dean of Weſtminſter, and I have forgiven all Men; but that they are perfidious, I am bound in Charity to ſpeak, that all Men may take heed of them.

Sir Lewis Steukley, my Keeper and Kinfman, hath affirmed that I ſhould tell him, that my Lord Carew, and my Lord of Doncaſter here, did adviſe me to eſcape; but I proteſt before God, I never told him any ſuch thing, neither did the Lords adviſe me to any ſuch Matter, neither is it likely that I ſhould tell him any ſuch thing of two Privy Counſellors; neither had I any Reaſon to tell him, or he to report it; for it is well known, he left me fix, ſeven, eight, nine and ten days together alone, to go whither I liſted, whiſt he rode himſelf about the Country.

He further accuſed me, that I ſhould ſhew him a Letter, whereby I did ſignify unto him that I would give him ten Thouſand Pounds for my Eſcape; but God caſt my Soul into everlaſting Fire, if I made any ſuch Proffer of ten Thouſand Pounds, or one Thouſand: but indeed I ſhewed him a Letter, that if he would go with me, there ſhould be Order taken for his Debts when he was gone; neither had I ten Thouſand Pounds to give him; for if I had had ſo much, I could have made my Peace better with it other way, than in giving it to Steukley.

Further, When I came to Sir Edward Pelham's Houſe, who had been a Follower of mine, and who gave me good Entertainment; he gave out that I had there receiv'd ſome Dram of Poiſon, when I answer'd him that I feared no ſuch thing, for I was well aſſur'd of them in the Houſe, and therefore wiſht him to have no ſuch Thought. Now God forgive him, for I do, and I deſire God to forgive him: I will not only ſay, God is a God of Revenge; but I deſire God to forgive him, as I do deſire to be forgiven of God.

Then looking over his Note of Remembrance, Well, ſaid he, thus far I have gone; a little more, a little more, and I will have done by and by.

It was told the King that I was brought per Force into England, and that I did not intend to come again; but Sir Charles Parker, M. Treſham, M. Leake, and divers know how I was dealt withal by the common Soldiers, which were 150 in Number, who mutiny'd, and ſent for me to come into the Ship to them, for unto me they would not come, and there I was forced to take an Oath that I would not go into England till that they would have me; otherwiſe they would have caſt me into the Sea; and therewithal they drove me into my Cabbin, and bent all their Forces againſt me.

Now after I have taken this Oath, with Wine and other things, ſuch as I had about me, I drew ſome of the chiefeſt to deſiſt from their Purpoſes; and at length I perſuaded them to go into Ireland, which they were willing unto, and would have gone into the North Parts of Ireland, which I diſſuaded them from, and told them that they were Red-Shankes that inhabited there: and with much ado I perſuaded them to go into the South Parts of Ireland, promiſing them to get their Pardons, and was forc'd to give them 125l. at Kinſale, to bring them home, otherwiſe I had never got from them.

I hear likewiſe there was a Report that I meant not to go to Guiana at all, and that I knew not of any Mine, nor intended any ſuch Thing or Matter;

Matter, but only to get my Liberty, which I had not the Wit to keep.

But I protest it was my full Intent, and for Gold; for Gold, for the Benefit of his Majesty and my self, and of those that ventur'd and went with me, with the rest of my Countrymen: But he that knew the Head of the Mine would not discover it, when he saw my Son was slain, but made away himself.

And then turning to the Earl of Arundel, he said, My Lord, being in the Gallery of my Ship, at my Departure, I remember your Honour took me by the Hand, and said, You would request one thing of me, which was, That whether I made a good Voyage or a bad, I should not fail, but to return again into England; which I then promised you, and gave you my Faith I would; and so I have.

To which my Lord answer'd, and said, It is true, I do very well remember it, they were the very last Words I spake unto you.

Another Slander was raised of me, That I would have gone away from them, and left them at Guiana.

But there were a great many worthy Men that accompanied me always; as my Serjeant-Major, George Raleigh, and divers others, which knew my Intent was nothing so.

Another Opinion was held of me, that I carried with me to Sea 16000 Pieces, and that was all the Voyage I intended, only to get Money into my Hands.

As I shall answer it before God, I had not in all the World in my Hands, or others to my Use, either directly or indirectly, above a hundred Pounds, whereof, when I went, I gave my Wife twenty-five Pounds thereof; but the Error thereof came, as I perceived, by looking over the Scrivener's Books, where they found the Bills of Adventure arising to a great Sum, so raised that false Report.

Only I will borrow a little time of Mr. Sheriffs to speak of one thing, that doth make my Heart to bleed to hear that such an Imputation should be laid upon me; for it is said, that I should be a Persecutor of the Death of the Earl of Essex, and that I stood in a Window over-against him when he suffer'd, and puffed out Tobacco in disdain of him. God I take to Witness, I shed Tears for him when he died; and as I hope to look God in the Face hereafter, my Lord of Essex did not see my Face when he suffer'd, for I was afar off in the Armory, where I saw him, but he saw not me.

I confess indeed I was of a contrary Faction, but I know my Lord of Essex was a noble Gentleman, and that it would be worse with me when he was gone; for I got the Hate of those which wished me well before, and those that set me against him, afterwards set themselves against me, and were my greatest Enemies, and my Soul hath many times been grieved that I was not nearer him when he died; because, as I understood afterwards, that he asked for me at his Death, to have been reconciled unto me.

And these be the material Points I thought good to speak of, and I am now at this Instant to render up an Account to God; and I protest, as I shall appear before him, this that I have spoken is true, and I hope I shall be believed.

Then a Proclamation being made, that all Men should depart the Scaffold, he prepared himself for Death; giving away his Hat, his Cap, with some Money, to such as he knew, that stood near him.

And then taking his leave of the Lords, Knights, Gentlemen, and others of his Acquaintance, and amongst the rest, taking his leave of my Lord of Arundel, he thanked him for his Company, and intreated him to desire the King that no scandalous Writing to defame him might be published after his Death; saying further unto him, I have a long Journey to go, and therefore I will take my leave.

And then putting off his Doublet and Gown, desired the Headsmen to shew him the Ax; which not being suddenly granted unto him, he said, I prithee let me see it, dost thou think that I am afraid of it? So it being given unto him, he felt along upon the Edge of it, and smiling, spake unto Mr. Sheriff, saying, This is a sharp Medicine, but it is a Physician that will cure all Diseases.

Then going to and fro upon the Scaffold on every Side, he intreated the Company to pray to God to give him Strength.

Then having ended his Speech, the Executioner kneeled down and asked him Forgiveness; the which laying his Hand upon his Shoulder he forgave him.

Then being asked which Way he would lay himself on the Block, he made Answer and said, So the Heart be straight, it is no matter which way the Head lieth: So laying his Head on the Block, his Face being towards the East, the Headsmen throwing down his own Cloak, because he would not spoil the Prisoner's Gown, he giving the Headsmen a Sign when he should strike, by lifting up his Hands, the Executioner struck off his Head at two Blows, his Body never shrinking nor moving. His Head was shewed on each Side of the Scaffold, and then put into a red Leather Bag, and his wrought Velvet Gown thrown over it, which was afterwards conveyed away in a Mourning Coach of his Lady's.

XIX. The Trials of Robert Winter, Thomas Winter, Guy Fawkes, John Grant, Ambrose Rookwood, Robert Keyes, Thomas Bates, and Sir Everard Digby, at Westminster for High-Treason, being Conspirators in the Gunpowder-Plot. 27 Jan. 1605. 3 Jac. I.

The COMMISSIONERS were,

The Earl of Nottingham.
The Earl of Suffolk.
The Earl of Worcester.
The Earl of Devonshire.
The Earl of Northampton.

The Earl of Salisbury.
The Lord Chief Justice of England, Sir John Popham.
The Lord Chief Baron of the Exchequer, Thomas Fleming.
Sir Peter Warburton, Knight, one of the Justices of the Common-Pleas.

The Effect of the Indictment.

THAT whereas our Sovereign Lord the King had, by the Advice and Assent of his Council, for divers weighty and urgent Occasions concerning his Majesty, the State, and Defence of the Church and Kingdom of England, appointed a Parliament to be holden at his City of Westminster; That Henry Garnet, Superior of the Jesuits within the Realm of England, (called also by the several names of Wally, Darcy, Roberts, Farmer, and Henry Philips) Oswald Tesmond Jesuit, otherwise called Oswald Greenwell, John Gerrard Jesuit, (called also by the several names of Lee and Brooke) Robert Winter, Thomas Winter, Gentlemen, Guy Fawkes Gent. otherwise called Guy Johnson, Robert Keyes Gent. and Thomas Bates Yeoman, late Servant to Robert Catesby Esquire; together with the said Robert Catesby, and Thomas Percy Esquires, John Wright and Christopher Wright Gentlemen, in open Rebellion and Insurrection against his Majesty, lately slain, and Francis Tresham Esq; lately dead; as false Traitors against our said Sovereign Lord the King, did traitorously meet and assemble themselves together; and being so met, the said Henry Garnet, Oswald Tesmond, John Gerrard, and other Jesuits, did maliciously, falsely, and traitorously move and persuade as well the said Thomas Winter, Guy Fawkes, Robert Keyes, and Thomas Bates, as the said Robert Catesby, Thomas Percy, John Wright, Christopher Wright, and Francis Tresham, That our said Sovereign Lord the King, the Nobility, Clergy, and whole Commonalty of the Realm of England, (Papists excepted) were Hereticks; and that all Hereticks were accursed and excommunicate; and that none Heretick could be a King; but that it was lawful and meritorious to kill our said Sovereign Lord the King, and all other Hereticks within this Realm of England, for the Advancing and Enlargement of the pretended and usurped Authority and Jurisdiction of the Bishop of Rome, and for the restoring of the superstitious Romish Religion within this Realm of England. To which traitorous Persuasions, the said Thomas Winter, Guy Fawkes, Robert Keyes, Thomas Bates, Robert Catesby, Thomas Percy, John Wright, Christopher Wright, and Francis Tresham, traitorously did yield their Assents: And that thereupon the said Henry Garnet, Oswald Tesmond, John Gerrard, and divers other Jesuits; Thomas Winter, Guy Fawkes, Robert Keyes, and Thomas Bates, as also the said Robert Catesby, Thomas Percy, John Wright, Christopher Wright, and Francis Tresham, traitorously amongst themselves did conclude and agree, with Gunpowder, as it were with one Blast; suddenly, traitorously and barbarously to blow up and tear in pieces our said Sovereign Lord the King, the excellent, virtuous, and gracious Queen Anne, his dearest Wife, the most noble Prince Henry, their eldest Son, and future Hope and Joy of England; and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, the Reverend Judges of the Realm, the Knights, Citizens and Burgeses of Parliament, and divers other faithful Subjects and Servants of the King in the said Parliament, for the Causes aforesaid to be assembled in the House of Parliament; and all them, without any respect of Majesty, Dignity, Degree, Sex, Age or Place, most barbarously, and more than beastly, traitorously and suddenly to destroy and swallow up. And further did most traitorously conspire and conclude among themselves, That not only the whole Royal Issue-Male of our said Sovereign Lord the King should be destroyed and rooted out; but that the Persons aforesaid, together with divers other false Traitors, traitorously with them to be assembled, should surprize the Persons of the noble Ladies Elizabeth and Mary, Daughters of our said Sovereign Lord the King, and falsely and traitorously should proclaim the said Lady Elizabeth to be Queen of this Realm: And thereupon should publish a certain traitorous Proclamation in the name of the said Lady Elizabeth; wherein, as it was especially agreed by and between the said Conspirators, That no mention should be made at the first, of the alteration of Religion established with within this Realm of England; neither would the said false Traitors therein acknowledge themselves to be Authors, or Actors, or Devisers of the aforesaid most wicked and horrible Treasons, until they had got sufficient Power and Strength for the assured Execution and Accomplishment of their said Conspiracy and Treason; and that then they would avow and justify the said most wicked and horrible Treasons, as Actions that were in the number of those, Quæ non laudantur, nisi peracta, which be not to be commended before they be done: but by the said feign'd and traitorous Proclamation they would publish, That all and singular Abuses and Grievances within this Realm of England, should, for satisfying of the People, be reform'd. And that as well for the better concealing, as for the more effectual accomplishing of the said horrible Treasons, as well the said Thomas Winter, Guy Fawkes, Robert Keyes, and Thomas Bates, as the said Robert Catesby, Thomas Percy, John Wright, Christopher Wright, and Francis Tresham, by the traitorous Advice and Procurement of the said Henry Garnet, Oswald Tesmond, John Gerrard, and other Jesuits, traitorously did further conclude and agree, that as well the said Thomas Winter, Guy Fawkes, Robert Keyes, and Thomas Bates, as the said Robert Catesby, Thomas Percy, John Wright, Christopher Wright, and Francis Tresham, thereupon severally and traitorously should receive several corporal Oaths upon the holy Evangelists, and the Sacrament of the Eucharist, That they the Treasons aforesaid would traitorously conceal and keep secret, and would not reveal them, directly or indirectly, by Words or Circumstances, nor ever would desist from the Execution and final Accomplishment of the said Treasons, without the consent of some three of the aforesaid false Traitors first in that behalf traitorously had: And that thereupon as well the said Thomas Winter, Guy Fawkes, Robert Keyes, and Thomas Bates, as the said Robert Catesby, Thomas Percy, John Wright, Christ. Wright, and Francis Tresham, did traitorously take the said several corporal Oaths severally, and did receive the Sacrament of the Eucharist aforesaid, by the Hands of the said Henry Garnet, John Gerrard, Oswald Tesmond, and other Jesuits. And further, that the said Thomas Winter, Guy Fawkes, Robert Keyes, and Thomas Bates, together with the said Robert Catesby, Thomas Percy, John Wright, Christopher Wright, and Francis Tresham, by the like traitorous Advice and Counsel of the said Henry Garnet, John Gerrard, Oswald Tesmond, and other Jesuits, for the more effectual compassing and final Execution of the said Treasons, did traitorously among themselves conclude and agree to dig a certain Mine under the said House of Parliament, and there secretly, under the said House, to bestow and place a great Quantity of Gunpowder; and that according to the said Traitorous Conclusion, the said Thomas Winter, Guy Fawkes, Robert Keyes, and Thomas Bates, together with the said Robert Catesby, Thomas Percy, John Wright, and Christopher Wright, afterwards secretly, not without great labour and difficulty, did dig and make the said Mine unto the midst of the Foundation of the Wall of the said House of Parliament, the said Foundation being of the thickness of three yards, with a traitorous Intent to bestow and place a great Quantity of Gunpowder in the Mine aforesaid, so as aforesaid traitorously to be made for the traitorous accomplishing of their traitorous Purposes aforesaid. And that the said Thomas Winter, Guy Fawkes, Robert Keyes, and Thomas Bates, together with the said Robert Catesby, Thomas Percy, John Wright, and Christopher Wright, finding and perceiving the said Work to be of great difficulty, by reason of the Hardness and Thickness of the said Wall; and understanding a certain Cellar under the said House of Parliament, and adjoining to a certain House of the said Thomas Percy, then to be letten to farm for a yearly Rent, the said Thomas Percy, by the traitorous Procurement, as well of the said Henry Garnet, Oswald Tesmond, John Gerrard, and other Jesuits, Thomas Winter, Guy Fawkes, Robert Keyes, and Thomas Bates, as of the said Robert Catesby, John Wright, and Christopher Wright, traitorously did hire the Cellar aforesaid for a certain yearly Rent and Term: and then those Traitors did remove twenty Barrels full of Gunpowder out of the said House of the said Thomas Percy, and secretly and traitorously did bestow and place them in the Cellar aforesaid, under the said House of Parliament, for the traitorous effecting of the Treason, and traitorous Purposes aforesaid. And that afterwards the said Henry Garnet, Oswald Tesmond, John Gerrard, and other Jesuits, Thomas Winter, Guy Fawkes, Robert Keyes, and Thomas Bates, together with the said Robert Catesby, Thomas Percy, John Wright, and Christ. Wright, traitorously did meet with Robert Winter, John Grant, and Ambrose Rookwood, and Francis Tresham, Esquires; and traitorously did impart to the said Robert Winter, John Grant, Ambrose Rookwood, and Francis Tresham, the Treasons, traitorous Intentions and Purposes aforesaid; and did require the said Robert Winter, John Grant, Ambrose Rookwood, and Francis Tresham, to join themselves as well with the said Henry Garnet, Oswald Tesmond, John Gerrard, Thomas Winter, Guy Fawkes, Robert Keyes, and Thomas Bates, as with the said Robert Catesby, Thomas Percy, John Wright, and Christopher Wright, in the Treasons, traitorous Intentions and Purposes aforesaid; and traitorously to provide Horse, Armour, and other Necessaries, for the better Accomplishment and effecting of the said Treasons. To which traitorous Motion and Request, the said Robert Winter, John Grant, Ambrose Rookwood, and Francis Tresham, did traitorously yield their Assents, and as well with the said Henry Garnet, Oswald Tesmond, John Gerrard, Robert Winter, Thomas Winter, Guy Fawkes, Robert Keyes, and Thomas Bates, as with the said Robert Catesby, Thomas Percy, John Wright, Christopher Wright, and Francis Tresham, in the said Treasons, traitorous Intentions and Purposes aforesaid, traitorously did adhere and unite themselves: And thereupon several corporal Oaths, in form aforesaid, traitorously did take, and the Sacrament of the Eucharist, by the hands of the said Jesuits did receive, to such Intent and Purpose, as is aforesaid; and Horses, Armour, and other Necessaries for the better effecting of the said Treasons, according to their traitorous Assents aforesaid, traitorously did provide. And that afterwards all the said false Traitors did traitorously provide, and bring into the Cellar aforesaid ten other Barrels full of Gunpowder, newly bought, fearing lest the former Gunpowder, so as aforesaid bestow'd and placed there, was become dankish; and the said several Quantities of Gunpowder aforesaid, with Billets and Faggots, lest they should be spy'd, secretly and traitorously did cover. And that afterwards the said false Traitors traitorously provided, and brought into the Cellar aforesaid, four Hogsheds full of Gunpowder, and laid divers great Iron Bars and Stones upon the said four Hogsheds, and the aforesaid other Quantities of Gunpowder: And the said Quantities of Gunpowder, Bars, and Stones, with Billets and Faggots, lest they should be espy'd, secretly and traitorously did likewise cover. And that the said Guy Fawkes, afterwards, for a full and final Accomplishment of the said Treasons, traitorous Intentions and Purposes aforesaid, by the traitorous Procurement, as well of the said Henry Garnet, Oswald Tesmond, John Gerrard, and other Jesuits, Robert Winter, Thomas Winter, Robert Keyes, Thomas Bates, John Grant, and Ambrose Rookwood, as of the said Robert Catesby, Thomas Percy, John Wright, Christopher Wright, and Francis Tresham, traitorously had prepared, and had upon his Person Touchwood and Match, therewith traitorously to give fire to the several Barrels, Hogsheds, and Quantities of Gunpowder aforesaid, at the time appointed for the Execution of the said horrible Treasons. And further, that after the said horrible Treasons, were, by the great Favour and Mercy of God, in a wonderful manner discover'd, not many hours before it should have been executed, as well the said Henry Garnet, Oswald Tesmond, John Gerrard, Robert Winter, Thomas Winter, Robert Keyes, Thomas Bates, John Grant, and Ambrose Rookwood, as the said Robert Catesby, Thomas Percy, John Wright, and Christopher Wright, traitorously did fly and withdraw themselves, to the intent traitorously to stir up and procure such Popish Persons, as they could, to join with them in actual, publick, and open Rebellion against our said Sovereign Lord the King; and to that end did publish divers feigned and false Rumours, that the Papists Throats should have been cut; and that thereupon divers Papists were in Arms, and in open, publick, and actual Rebellion against our said Sovereign Lord the King, in divers Parts of this Realm of England.

To this Indictment they all pleaded, Not guilty; and put themselves upon God and the Country.

Then did Sir Edward Philips, Kt. his Majesty's Setjeant at Law, open the Indictment to this effect, as followeth.

The matter that is now to be offer'd to you my Lords the Commissioners, and to the Trial of you the Knights and Gentlemen of the Jury, is Matter of Treason; but of such Horror, and monstrous Nature, that before now,

The Tongue of Man never deliver'd,

The Ear of Man never heard,

The Heart of Man never conceited,

Nor the Malice of hellish or earthly Devil ever praesised.

For, if it be abominable to murder the least;

If to touch God's Anointed be to oppose themselves against God;

If (by Blood) to subvert Princes, States and Kingdoms, be hateful to God and Man, as all true Christians must acknowledge:

Then, how much more than too too monstrous shall all Christian Hearts judge the Horror of this Treason; to murder and subvert

Such a King,

Such a Queen,

Such a Prince,

Such a Progeny,

Such a State,

Such a Government,

So complete and absolute,

That God approves,

The World admires,

All true English Hearts honour and reverence,

The Pope and his Disciples only envies and maligns?

The Proceeding wherein, is properly to be divided into three general Heads.

First, Matter of Declaration.

Secondly, Matter of Aggravation.

Thirdly, Matter of Probation.

My self am limited to deal only with the Matter of Declaration, and that is contain'd within the Compass of the Indictment only.

For the other two, I am to leave to him to whose Place it belongeth.

The Substance of which Declaration consisteth in four Parts.

First, In the Persons and Qualities of the Conspirators.

Secondly, In the Matter conspired.

Thirdly, In the Mean and Manner of the Proceeding and Execution of the Conspiracy.

And fourthly, Of the End and Purpose why it was so conspired.

As concerning the first, being the Persons; they were, Garnet, Gerrard, Tesmond, Jesuits not then taken. Thomas Winter, Guy Fawkes, Robert Keyes, Thomas Bates, Everard Digby, Ambrose Rookwood, John Grant, Robert Winter, at the Bar. Robert Catesby, Thomas Percy, John Wright, Christopher Wright, slain in Rebellion. Francis Tresham, lately dead: All grounded Romanists and corrupted Scholars of so irreligious and traitorous a School.

As concerning the second, which is the Matter conspired; it was

First, To deprive the King of his Crown.

Secondly, To murder the King, the Queen, and the Prince.

Thirdly, To stir Rebellion and Sedition in the Kingdom.

Fourthly, To bring a miserable Destruction amongst the Subjects.

Fifthly, To change, alter, and subvert the Religion here established.

Sixthly, To ruin the State of the Commonwealth, and to bring in Strangers to invade it.

As concerning the third, which is the Mean and Manner how to compass and execute the same; they did all conclude,

First, That the King, and his People (the Papists excepted) were Hereticks.

Secondly, That they were all cursed, and excommunicated by the Pope.

Thirdly, That no Heretick could be King.

Fourthly, That it was lawful and meritorious to kill and destroy the King, and all the said Hereticks.

The Mean to effect it, they concluded to be, that,

First, The King, the Queen, the Prince, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, the Knights and Burgesses of the Parliament, should be blown up with Powder.

Secondly, That the whole Royal Issue Male should be destroy'd.

Thirdly, That they would take into their Custody Elizabeth and Mary the King's Daughters, and proclaim the Lady Elizabeth Queen.

Fourthly, That they should feign a Proclamation in the name of Elizabeth, in which no mention should be made of Alteration of Religion,

H h

nor that they were Parties to the Treason, until they had raised Power to perform the same; and then to proclaim, All Grievances in the Kingdom should be reformed.

That they also took several Oaths, and receiv'd the Sacrament; First, for Secrecy; Secondly, for Prosecution; except they were discharg'd thereof by three of them.

That after the Destruction of the King, the Queen, the Prince, the Royal Issue Male, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, the Knights and Burgeses, they should notify the same to foreign States; and thereupon Sir Edmund Baynam an attainted Person of Treason, and styling himself Prime of the damned Crew, should be sent and make the same known to the Pope, and crave his Aid: an Embassador fit both for the Message and Persons, to be sent betwixt the Pope and the Devil.

That the Parliament being prorogued till the 7th of February, they in December made a Mine under the House of Parliament, purposing to place their Powder there; but the Parliament being then further adjourned till the 3d of October, they in Lent following hired the Vault, and placed therein 20 Barrels of Powder.

That they took to them, Robert Winter, Grant, and Rookwood, giving them the Oaths and Sacrament as aforesaid, as to provide Munition.

July 20. They laid in more ten Barrels of Powder, laying upon them divers great Bars of Iron, and pieces of Timber, and great massy Stones, and covered the same with Faggots, &c.

September 20. They laid in more 4 Hogheads of Powder, with other Stores and Bars of Iron thereupon.

November 4. (The Parliament being prorogued to the 5th) at 11 a clock at Night, Faukes had prepared (by the procurement of the rest) Touchwood and Match, to give fire to the Powder the next Day.

That the Treason being miraculously discovered, they put themselves, and procured others to enter into open Rebellion; and gave out most untruly, It was for that the Papists Throats were to be cut.

* Sir Edward Coke. * Attor. General. It appeareth to your Lordships, and the rest of this most honourable and grave Assembly, even by that which Mr. Serjeant hath already opened, that these are the greatest Treasons that ever were plotted in England, and concern the greatest King that ever was of England. But when this Assembly shall further hear, and see discovered the Roots and Branches of the same, not hitherto published, they will say indeed, Quis hæc posteris sic narrare poterit, ut facta non ficta esse videantur? That when these things shall be related to Posterity, they will be reputed matters feigned, not done. And therefore in this so great a Cause, upon the Carriage and Event whereof the Eye of all Christendom is at this day bent; I shall desire that I may with your Patience be somewhat more copious, and not so succinct, as my usual manner hath been; and yet will I be no longer than the very matter it self shall necessarily require. But before I enter into the particular Narration of this Cause, I hold it fit to give Satisfaction to some, and those well affected amongst us, who have not only marvelled, but grieved, that no speedier Expedition hath been used in these Proceedings, considering the Monstrousness and continual Horror of this so desperate a Cause.

1. It is, Ordo Naturæ, agreeable to the Order of Nature, that things of great weight and magnitude should slowly proceed, according to that of the Poet, Tarda solet magnis rebus adesse fides. And surely of these things we may truly say, Nunquam ante dies nostros talia acciderunt; neither hath the Eye of Man seen, nor the Ear of Man heard the like things to these.

2. Veritas temporis filia, Truth is the Daughter of Time; especially in this Case, wherein by timely and often Examinations, First, Matters of greatest moment have been lately found out. Secondly, Some known Offenders, and those capital, but lately, apprehended. Thirdly, Sundry of the principal Arch-Traitors before unknown, now manifested, as the Jesuits. Fourthly, Heretical, treasonable and damnable Books lately found out; one of Equivocation, and another, De officio Principis Christiani, of Francis Tresham's.

3. There have been already twenty and three several days spent in Examinations.

4. We should otherwise have hanged a Man unattainted, for Guy Faukes passed for a time under the name of John Johnson: So that if by that name greater expedition had been made, and he hanged, though we had not missed of the Man, yet the Proceeding would not have been so orderly or justifiable.

5. The King out of his Wisdom and great Moderation, was pleased to appoint this Trial in time of Assembly in Parliament, for that it concerned especially those of the Parliament.

Now touching the Offences themselves, they are so exorbitant and transcendent, and aggregated of so many bloody and fearful Crimes, as they cannot be aggravated by an Inference, Argument or Circumstance whatsoever; and that in three respects:

First, Because this Offence is Præ impressio, and therefore sine Nomine, without any name which might be adequatum, sufficient to express it, given by any Legist, that ever made a writ of any Laws. For the highest Treason that all they could imagine, they called it only Crimen læsæ Majestatis, the violating of the Majesty of the Prince. But this Treason doth want an apt name, as tending not only to the Hurt, but to the Death of the King; and not the Death of the King only, but of his whole Kingdom, Non Regis sed Regni, that is, to the Destruction and Dissolution of the Frame and Fabrick of this antient, famous, and ever-flourishing Monarchy; even the Deletion of our whole Name and Nation: And therefore hold not thy Tongue, O God, keep not still silence, refrain not thy self, O God; for lo thine Enemies make a murmuring, and they that hate thee have lift up their Heads: They have said, Come, and let us root them out, that they be no more a People, and that the Name of Israel may be no more in remembrance. Psal. 83. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.

Secondly, It is, Sine exemplo, beyond all Examples, whether in Fact or Fiction, even of the Tragick Poets, who did beat their Wits to represent the most fearful and horrible Murders.

Thirdly, It is, Sine modo, without all measure or stint of Iniquity; like a Mathematical Line, which is, divisibilis in semper divisibilia, infinitely divisible.

It is Treason to imagine or intend the Death of the King, Queen, or Prince.

For Treason is like a Tree whose Root is full of Poison, and lieth secret and hid within the Earth, resembling the Imagination of the Heart of Man, which is so secret as God only knoweth it.

Now the Wisdom of the Law provideth for the blasting and nipping, both of the Leaves, Blossoms, and Buds which proceed from this Root of Treason; either by Words, which are like to Leaves, or by some overt Act, which may be resembled to Buds or Blossoms, before it cometh to such Fruit and Ripeness, as would bring utter Destruction and Desolation upon the whole State.

It is likewise Treason to kill the Lord Chancellor, Lord Treasurer, or any Justice of the one Bench or other; Justices of Assize, or any other Judge mentioned in the Statute of 25 Edw. III. sitting in their Judicial Places, and exercising their Offices. And the Reason is, for that every Judge so sitting by the King's Authority, representeth the Majesty and Person of the King; and therefore it is Crimen læsæ Majestatis, to kill him, the King being always in Judgment of Law present in Court. But in the high Court of Parliament, every Man by virtue of the King's Authority, by Writ under the Great Seal, hath a judicial Place; and so consequently the killing of every of them had been a several Treason, and Crimen læsæ Majestatis. Besides that to their Treasons were added open Rebellion, Burglary, Robbery, Horse-stealing, &c. So that this Offence is such, as no Man can express it, no Example pattern it, no Measure contain it.

Concerning foreign Princes; there was here a Protestation made for the clearing of them from all Imputation and Aspersion whatsoever.

First. For that whilst Kingdoms stood in Hostility, hostile Actions are holden honourable and just.

Secondly, It is not the King's Serjeant, Attorney, or Solicitor, that in any sort touch or mention them: For we know that great Princes and Personages are reverently and respectfully to be spoken of; and that there is Lex in sermone tenenda. But it is Faukes, Winter, and the rest of the Offenders, that have confessed so much as hath been said: And therefore the King's Counsel Learned doth but repeat the Offender's Confession, and charge or touch no other Person. They have also slander'd unjustly our great Master King James, which we only repeat, to shew the Wickedness and Malice of the Offenders.

Thirdly, So much as is said concerning foreign Princes, is so woven into the matter of the Charge of these Offenders, as it cannot be sever'd or singled from the rest of the matter; so as it is inevitable, and cannot be pretermitted.

Now as this Powder-Treason is in itself prodigious and unnatural, so it is in the Conception and Birth most monstrous, as arising out of the dead Ashes of former Treasons. For it had three Roots, all planted and watered by Jesuits, and English Romish Catholics: The first Root in England, in December and March; the second in Flanders, in June; the third in Spain, in July. In England it had two Branches, one in December was twelve Months before the death of the late Queen of blessed Memory; another in March wherein she died.

First in December Anno Dom. 1601. do Henry Garnet Superior of the Jesuits in England, Robert Tesmond Jesuit, Robert Catesby (who was bono jubaio & versuto ingenio & profunda perfidia) together with Francis Tresham and others, in the names, and for the behalf of all the English Romish Catholics, employ Thomas Winter into Spain, as for the general good of the Romish Catholick Cause; and by him doth Garnet write his Letters to Father Creswell, Jesuit residing in Spain, in that behalf. With Thomas Winter doth Tesmond, alias Greenway the Jesuit, go as an Associate and Confederate in that Conspiracy. The Message (which was principally committed unto the said Winter) was, that he should make a Proposition and Request to the King of Spain, in the behalf and names of the English Catholics, That the King would send an Army hither into England, and that the Forces of the Catholics in England should be prepared to join with him, and do him Service: And further, that he should move the King of Spain to bestow some Pensions here in England, upon sundry Persons Catholics, and devoted to his Service: And moreover, to give Advertisement, that the said King of Spain, making use of the general Discontentment that young Gentlemen and Soldiers were in, might no doubt, by relieving their Necessities, have them all at his Devotion.

And because that in all Attempts upon England, the greatest Difficulty was ever found to be the Transportation of Horses; the Catholics in England would assure the King of Spain to have always in readiness for his Use and Service, 1500 or 2000 Horses, against any occasion or enterprise. Now Thomas Winter undertaking this Negotiation, and with Tesmond the Jesuit coming into Spain, by means of Father Creswell the Legier Jesuit there, as hath been said, had readily Speech with Don Pedro Francesca second Secretary of State, to whom he imparted his Message, as also to the Duke of Lerma; who assured him, that it would be an Office very grateful to his Master, and that it should not want his best Furtherance.

Concerning the Place for landing of the King of Spain's Army, which from the English Romish Catholics he desired might be sent to invade the Land; it was resolved, that if the Army were great, then Essex and Kent were judged fittest, (where note by the way, who was then Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports:) If the Army were small, and trusted upon Succour in England, then Milford-haven was thought more convenient.

Now there being at that time Hostility betwixt both Kingdoms, the King of Spain willingly embraced the Motion, saying, that he took the Message from the Catholics very kindly, and that in all things he would respect them with as great Care as his proper Castilians. But for his further answer, and full dispatch, Thomas Winter was appointed to attend the Progress. In the end whereof, being in Summer time, Count Miranda gave him this answer in the behalf of his Master, That the King would bestow 100000 Crowns to that use, half to be paid that Year, and the rest the next Spring following; and withal required that we should be as good as our Promise, for the next Spring he meant to be with us, and set foot in England. And lastly, he desired on the King's behalf, of Winter, that he might have certain Advertisement and Intelligence, if so it should in the mean time happen that the Queen did die. Tho. Winter laden with these Hopes, returns into England about a Month before Christmas, and delivered answer of all that had passed, to Henry Garnet, Robert Catesby, and Francis Tresham. But soon after set that glorious Light, her Majesty died: Miracano; Sol occubuit, Nox nulla secuta est.

Presently after whose Death was Christopher Wright, another Messenger sent over into Spain by Garnet, (who likewise did write by him to Creswell, for the furtherance of the Negotiation) Catesby and and Tresham, in the name and behalf of all the Romish Catholics in England; as well to carry News of her Majesty's Death, as also to continue the aforesaid Negotiation for an Invasion and Pensions, which by Tho. Winter had before been dealt in. And in the Spanish Court, about two Months after his arrival there, doth Christopher Wright meet with Guy Fawkes; who upon the 22d of June was employed out of Flanders from Brussels by Sir William Stanley, Hugh Owen, (whose Finger hath been in every Treason which hath been of late Years detected) and Baldwyn the Legier Jesuit in Flanders; from whom likewise the said Fawkes carried Letters to Creswell in Spain, for the countenancing and furtherance of his Affairs.

Now the End of Fawkes's imployment was, to give Advertisement to the King of Spain, how the King of England was like to proceed rigorously with the Catholics, and to run the same course which the late Queen did; and withal to intreat that it would please him to send an Army into England to Milford-haven, where the Romish Catholics would be ready to assist him: and then the Forces that should be transported in Spinola's Gallies, should be landed where they could most conveniently. And these their several Messages did Christopher Wright and Guy Fawkes in the end intimate and propound to the King of Spain. But the King as then very honourably answered them both, that he would not in any wise further listen to any such Motion, as having before dispatched an Embassy into England, to treat concerning Peace. Therefore this Course by foreign Forces failing, they fell to the Powder-Plot, Catesby and Tresham being in at all; in the Treason of the Earl of Essex, in the Treason of Watson and Clarke Seminary Priests, and also in this of the Jesuits; such a greedy Appetite had they to practise against the State.

The rest of that which Mr. Attorney then spake continuedly, was by himself divided into three general Parts. The first containing certain Considerations concerning this Treason. The second Observations about the same. The third a Comparison of this Treason of the Jesuits, with that of the Seminary Priests, and that other of Raleigh and others.

For the Considerations concerning the Powder-Treason, they were in Number eight: That is to say, 1. The Persons by whom. 2. The Persons against whom. 3. The Time when. 4. The Place where. 5. The Means. 6. The End. 7. The secret contriving. And lastly, the admirable Discovery thereof.

1. For the Persons offending, or by whom, they are of two sorts; either of the Clergy, or Laity: and for each of them there is a several Objection made. Touching those of the Laity, it is by some given out, that they are such Men, as admit just Exception, either desperate in Estate, or base, or not settled in their wits; such as are Sine Religione, Sine Sede, Sine Fide, Sine Re, & Sine Spe; without Religion, without Habitation, without Credit, without Means, without Hope. But (that no Man, tho' never so wicked, may be wronged) true it is, they were Gentlemen of good Houses, of excellent Parts, howsoever most perniciously seduced, abused, corrupted, and jesuited, of very competent Fortunes and States. Besides that Percy was of the House of Northumberland, Sir William Stanley, who principally employed Fawkes into Spain, and John Talbot of Grafton, who at the least is in Case of Misprision of High-Treason, both of great and honourable Families. Concerning those of the Spirituality, it is likewise falsely said, That there is never a religious Man in this Action. For I never yet knew a Treason without a Romish Priest; but in this there are very many Jesuits, who are known to have dealt and passed thro' the whole Action: Three of them are Legiers and Statesmen, as Henry Garnet alias Walley, the Superior of the Jesuits, Legier here in England; Father Creswell Legier Jesuit in Spain, Father Baldwyn Legier in Flanders, as Parsons at Rome; besides their cursory Men, as Gerrard, Oswald, Tesmond, alias Greeneway, Hammond, Hall, and other Jesuits. So that the principal Offenders are the seducing Jesuits; Men that use the Reverence of Religion, yea, even the most sacred and blessed Name of Jesus, as a Mantle to cover their Impiety, Blasphemy, Treason and Rebellion, and all manner of Wickedness; as by the help of Christ shall be made most apparent to the Glory of God, and the Honour of our Religion. Concerning this Sect, their Studies and Practices principally consist in two D D's, to wit, in Deposing of Kings, and Disposing of Kingdoms: their Profession and Doctrine is a Religion of Distinctions, the greatest part of them being without the Text, and therefore in very deed, idle and vain conceits of their own Brains: not having Membra dividenda, that is, all the parts of the division warranted by the Word of God; and ubi lex non distinguit, nec nos distinguere debemus. And albeit that Princes hold their Crowns immediately of and from God, by Right of lawful Succession and Inheritance inherent by Royal Blood; yet think these Jesuits with a Goose-quill, within four distinctions to remove the Crown from the Head of any King christened, and to deal with them, as the old Romans are said to have done with their Viceroy, or petty Kings, who in effect were but Lieutenants unto them, to crown and uncrown them at their pleasures. Neither so only, but they will proscribe and expose them to be butchered by Vassals, which is against their own Canons, for Priests to meddle in cause of Blood. And by this means they would make the Condition of a King far worse than that of the poorest Creature that breatheth. First saith Simanca; Hæretici omnes ipso jure sunt Excommunicati, & à Communione fidelium diris proscriptionibus separati, & quotannis in cæna Domini excommunicantur à Papa: So then every Heretick stands and is reputed with them as excommunicated and accursed, if not de Facto, yet de Jure, in Law and Right, to all their Intents and Purposes: therefore may he be deposed, proscribed and murdered. I, but suppose he be not a professed Heretick, but dealeth reservedly, and keepeth his Conscience to himself: how stands he then? Simanca answers, Quæri autem solet an Hæreticus occultus excommunicatus sit ipso jure, & in alias etiam pœnas incidat contra Hæreticos statutas? Cui quæstioni simpliciter Jurisperiti respondent, quod etsi hæresis occulta sit, nihilominus occultus Hæreticus incidit in illas pœnas. Whether he be a known or a secret Heretick all is one, they thunder out the same Judgment and Curse for both; whereas Christ saith, Nolite judicare, Judge not, which is, saith Augustine, Nolite judicare de occultis, of those things which are secret. But suppose that a Prince thus accursed and deposed, will estoons return and conform himself to their Romish Church, shall he then be restored to his State, and again receive his Kingdom?

Nothing less: For saith Simanca, Si Reges aut alii Principes Christiani facti sint Hæretici, protinus subjecri & vassalli ab eorum dominio liberantur; nec jus hoc recuperabunt, quamvis postea reconcilientur Ecclesiæ. O but, Sancta Mater Ecclesia nunquam claudit gremium redeunti; our Holy Mother the Church never shuts her Bosom to any Convert. It is true, say they, but with a Distinction, Quoad Animam: Therefore so he may, and shall be restored; that is, spiritually, in respect of his Soul's health. Quoad Animam, he shall again be taken into the Holy Church; but not Quoad Regnum, in respect of his Kingdom or State Temporal, he must not be restored. The reason is, because all hold only thus far, Modo non sit ad damnum Ecclesiæ, so that the Church receive thereby no detriment. I, but suppose that such an unhappy deposed Prince have a Son, or lawful and right Heir, and he also not to be touched or spotted with his Father's Crime, shall not he at the least succeed, and be invested into that princely Estate? Neither will this down with them; Heresy is a Leprosy and hereditary Disease: Et ex leprosis parentibus leprosi generantur filii; Of leprous Parents, come leprous Children. So that saith Simanca, Propter Hæresum Regis, non solum Rex regno privatur, sed & ejus filii a regni successione pelluntur, ut noster Lupus (who is indeed, Vir secundum nomen ejus, a Wolf as well in Nature as Name) luculenter probat. Now if a Man doubt whom they here mean by an Heretick, Creswell in his Book called Philopater, gives a plain Resolution; Regnandi jus amittit (saith he) qui Religionem Romanam deserit, he is the Heretick we speak of; even whosoever forsakes the Religion of the Church of Rome, he is accursed, deprived, proscribed, never to be absolved but by the Pope himself, never to be restored either in himself, or his Posterity.

One place amongst many out of Creswell's Philopater, shall serve to give a Taste of the jesuitical Spirits and Doctrine; which is, Seet. 2. pag. 109. Hinc etiam infert universa Theologorum ac Jurisconsultorum Ecclesiasticorum, schola (& est certum & de fide) quomcumque Principem Christianum, si à Religione Catholica manifesto discesserit, & alios avocare voluerit, excidere statim omni potestate ac dignitate, ex ipsa vi juris tum humani tum divini, hocque antedictam sententiam supremi pastoris ac judicis contra ipsum prolatam, & subditos quoscumque liberos esse ab omni Juramenti obligatione, quod de obedientia tanquam Principi legitimo præstitissent; posseque & debere (si vires habeant) ipsiusmodi hominem tanquam Apostatam, Hæreticum, ac Christi Domini Desertorem, & Reipub. suæ inimicum hostemque ex hominum Christianorum dominatu ejicere, ne a iis inficiat, vel suo exemplo aut Imperio à fide avertat. Atque hæc certa, definita & indubitata virorum doctissimorum sententia. That is, this inference also doth the whole School both of Divines and Lawyers make, (and it is a Position certain, and to be undoubtedly believed) that if any Christian Prince whatsoever, shall manifestly turn from the Catholic Religion, and desire or seek to reclaim other Men from the same, he presently falleth from all princely Power and Dignity; and that also by virtue and force of the Law itself, both divine and human, even before any Sentence pronounced against him by the supreme Pastor and Judge. And that his Subjects, of what Estate or Condition soever, are freed from all bond of Oath of Allegiance, which at any time they had made unto him as to their lawful Prince. Nay, that they both may and ought (provided they have competent Strength and Force) cast out such a Man from bearing Rule amongst Christians, as an Apostate, an Heretick, a Backslider and Revolver from our Lord Christ, and an Enemy to his own State and Commonwealth, lest perhaps he might infect others, or by his Example or Command turn them from the Faith. And this is the certain, resolute, and undoubted Judgment of the best learned Men. But Tresham in his Book, De Officio Principis Christiani, goeth beyond all the rest; for he plainly concludeth and determineth, that if any Prince shall but favour, or shew countenance to an Heretick, he presently loseth his Kingdom. In his fifth Chapter, he propoundeth this Problem, An aliqua possit secundum Conscientiam subditis esse Ratio, cur legitimo suo Regi bellum sine scelere moveant? Whether there may be any lawful Cause, justifiable in Conscience, for Subjects to take Arms without Sin, against their lawful Prince and Sovereign? The Resolution is, Si Princeps hæreticus sit & obstinate ac pertinaciter intolerabilis, summi Pastoris divina potestate deponatur, & aliud caput constituitur, cui subditi se jungant, & legitimo ordine & autoritate tyrannidem amoveant. Princeps indulgendo hæreticos non solum Deum offendit, sed perdit & regnum & gentem. Their Conclusion therefore is, that for Heresy, as above is understood, a Prince is to be deposed, and his Kingdom bestowed by the Pope at pleasure; and that the People, upon pain of Damnation, are to take part with him whom the Pope shall so constitute over them. And thus whilst they imagine with the Wings of their light-feathered Distinctions to mount above the Clouds and Level of vulgar Conceits, they desperately fall into a Sea of gross Absurdities, Blasphemy, and Impiety. And surely the Jesuits were so far engaged in this Treason, as that some of them stick not to say, that if it should miscarry, that they were utterly undone, and that it would overthrow the State of the whole Society of the Jesuits: And I pray God that in this, they may prove true Prophets, that they may become like the Order of Templarii, so called for that they kept near the Sepulchre at Jerusalem, who were by a general and universal Edict in one Day throughout Christendom quite extinguished, as being Ordo Impietatis, an Order of Impiety. And so from all Sedition and privy Conspiracy, from all false Doctrine and Heresy, from Hardness of Heart, and Contempt of thy Word and Commandment, Good Lord, deliver us. Their Protestations and Pretences, are to win Souls to God; their Proofs weak, light, and of no value; their Conclusions false, damnable, and damned Heresies: The first mentioneth God, the second favourer of weak and frail Man, the last of the Devil; and their Practice easily appeareth out of the Dealing of their Holy Father.

Henry III. of France for killing a Cardinal was excommunicated, and after murdered by James Clement a Monk: That Fact doth Sixtus Quintus then Pope, instead of orderly censuring thereof, not only approve, but commend in a long Consistory Oration. That a Monk, a religious Man, saith he, hath slain the unhappy French King in the midst of his Host, it is rurum insigne, memorabile Facinus, a rare, a notable, and a memorable Act; yea further, it is Facinus non sine Dei optimi Maximi particulari providentia & dispositione, &c. A Fact done not without the special Providence and Appointment of our good God, and the Suggestion and Assistance of his Holy Spirit; yea, a far greater work than was the slaying of Holofernes by Holy Judith.
