

a Appointe
three cities of
refuge.
Exo. 21.13.

b Whosoever
shall be travell'd
without any
let.

c That killeth
one by chance,
and not of set
purpose.

Num. 35.
12.

d I cannot
be moved to death.

e When thou
goest out
of the land.

Deu. 12.20
gen. 28.14.

Iosa. 20.7.

f That the death of the
partie slain,
be imputed
unto thee.

g The officers
of magistrates

h Whosoever
murdereth
can not be pardoned
without Gods
high dispensation.

i To remember the innocent blood.

k Directione
of land bound:
The very Iu-
dges didUDGE
this to be a
great offence.

l In any place
of refuge.

m God is present, where his
true ministers
are.

n Prou. 19.5.

2 Thou shalt separate three cities for thee in the mides of the lande, which the Lorde thy God giueth thee to possesse it:

3 Thou shalt prepare the way, and deuide the coasts of the land, which the Lorde thy God giueth thee to inherite, into three partes, that whosoever committeth murder, may flee thither.

4 For this cause must the slayer flee thither: that hee may liue, who so killeth his neighbour ignorantly, and hated him not in time past:

5 And when a man goeth into the wood with his neighbour, to hew wood, as his hand fetcheth a stroke with the axe to cut downe the tree, the head slippeth from the helue, and smiteth his neighbour that he dyeth: the same shall flee vnto one of the same cities, and liue:

6 Lest the auenger of the blood follow after the slayer while his heart is hote, and ouertake him, because the way is long, and slay him, and yet there is no cause worthy of death in him, in as much as he hated him not in time past.

7 Wherefore I commaund thee, saying, Thou shalt appoint out three cities for thee.

8 And if the Lorde thy God enlarge thy coasts (as he hath sworne vnto thy fathers) and giue thee all the land which hee saide hee would giue vnto thy fathers:

9 Thou shalt keepe all these commaundements to doe them, which I commaund thee this day, that thou loue thy Lorde thy God, and walke in his wayes ever: and adde three cities more for thee, beside these three.

10 That innocent blood be not shedde in thy land which the Lorde thy God giueth thee to inherite, and so blood come vpon thee.

11 But and if any man hate his neighbour, and lay a wayt for him, and rise against him, and smite him that he dye, and then fleeth vnto any of these cities:

12 The elders of his citie shall send and fetch him thence, and deliuer him into the handes of the auenger of blood, that he may die.

13 Thine eye shall not spare him, but thou shalt put away innocent blood from Israel, that it may goe well with thee.

14 Thou shalt not remooue thy neighbours marke, which they of old time haue set in thine inheritance, that thou shalt inherite, in the land which the Lorde thy God giueth thee to inherite.

15 One witnesse shall not rise against a man for any trespass, or for any sinne, or for any fault that hee offendeth in: but at the mouth of two witnessses, or of three witnessses, shall the matter be stablished.

16 If a false witnesse rise by against any man to accuse him of trespass: by his testimony shall he be condemned.

17 Then both the men which strite together, shall stand before the Lorde, before the Priests, and the Judges which shall be in those dayes:

18 And the Judges shall make diligent inquisition: and if the witnesse be found false, and that hee hath giuen false witnesse against his brother:

19 Then shall yee doe vnto him, as hee had thought to doe vnto his brother: and thou shalt put euill away from the mides of thee.

20 And other shall heare, and feare, and shall henceforth commit no more any such wickednes among you.

21 And thine eye shall haue no compassion, but life for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot.

The xx. Chapter.

3 The exhortation of the Priest, when the Israelites goe to battell. 10 Peace must first be proclaimed. 19 The trees that beare fruit must not be destroyed.

When thou goest out to battell against thine enemies, and seest horses and charers, and people more then thou, be not afraid of them: for the Lorde thy God is with thee, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

And when ye are come nigh vnto battell, the Priest shall come forth to speake vnto the people,

And shall say vnto them, Heare, O Israel, you are come this day vnto battell against your enemies, let not your hearts faint, neither feare, nor be amazed, nor adread of them:

For the Lorde your God goeth with you, to fight for you against your enemies, and to saue you.

And let the officers speake vnto the people, saying, If any man haue built a new house, and haue not dedicate it: let him goe and returne to his house, lest he die in the battell, and another man dedicate it.

And if any man haue planted a vineyard, and haue not made it common: let him goe and returne againe vnto his house, lest he die in the battell, and another make it common.

And if any man be betrothed vnto a wife, and haue not taken her, let him goe and returne againe vnto his house, lest he die in the battell, and another man take her.

And let the officers speake further vnto the people, and say, If any man feare, and bee faint hearted, let him goe and returne vnto his house, lest hee make his brothers heart faint as well as his.

And when the officers haue made an ende of speaking vnto the people, they shall make captaines of the armie to gouerne the people.

When thou comest nigh vnto a citie to fight against it, offer them peace.

And if they answer thee againe peaceably, and open vnto thee, then let all the people that is found therein, be tributaries vnto thee, and serue thee.

And if they will make no peace with thee, but make warre against thee, thou shalt besiege it.

And when the Lorde thy God hath deliuered it into thine hands, thou shalt smite all the males thereof with the edge of the sword.

But the women, and the children, and the cattell, and all that is in the citie, and all the spoyle thereof, shalt thou take vnto thy selfe, and eat the spoyle of thine enemies, which the Lorde thy God hath giuen thee.

Thus shalt thou doe vnto all the cities which are a great way off from thee, which are not of the cities of these nations.

But of the cities of these nations, which the Lorde thy God hath giue thee to inherite, thou shalt saue aliue nothing that breatheth:

But shalt destroy them without redemption, namely, the Hethites, the Amorites, the Exo. 21.24.

Mat. 5.38.

Iudg. 7.3.
1. mac. 3.56.

Leuit. 19.9.

Iudg. 7.3.

1. If it allow
the offer of
peace.

d Of the Cha-
naantes, &c.

a pr am

Chanaa

or check

CLASSIC