

husband upon feeling the assize said he thanked God he had shored his conscience in that matter

M^r Harmon did prove that assize and was a witness to it

The Jst Dunsell was much blamed for inserting M^r Harmon's name into the bill

The Jst was dissatisfied with good Jst and the Jst found it false clamors and to be bound to ask the Lady Edwards forgiveness in the open C^ort
